

GOLDEN SOUVENIR IS GIVEN TO TAFT BY GRIDIRON CLUB

Wilson Inaugural Parade Is Made Subject of Jest at Dinner of Journalists.

Hanging in President Taft's private office today is a little golden gridiron, a gift of the Gridiron Club, received last evening at the last function of the sort he will attend as President of the United States. The presentation of the souvenir was one of the features of a dinner at the New Willard, given to signalize the inaugural of a new president of the club.

The occasion of last night's dinner naturally led to a burlesque of the inaugural parade of the evening was one of the most elaborate affairs the Gridiron Club has ever given. The parade, which was given in the line of the parade, but conspicuously absent were the Champ Clark House Dog Club, the "underwood" Fraternity, and the "Harmless Bunches." The president of the club, Rudolph Kaufman, emphasized the absence of these organizations.

Report Assignments.
Samuel Blythe, editor of the Gridiron Club's own model newspaper and professor of its School of Journalism, called upon Reporters, Columnists and Coolidge for reports on assignments. Mr. Coolidge had been investigating the health of John Barrett, director of the Pan-American Union. Mr. Barrett's mind has been affected for sixteen years. It appears that his memory is but recently restored. He is now able to remember that he used to be or always was a Democrat.

Mr. Coolidge told why Senator Lodge is the only Senator on the list of the American Academy of Immortals. "Because Senator Lodge made up the list himself," he said.

Mr. Coolidge said that Secretary Macdonald's idea of a poor investment is to build a $500,000 home in Washington on the eve of a Democratic election. William Cowan's idea of a poor investment, so the interviewer said, is to subscribe to the magazine "The Nation."

Satirize Bryan.
William Jennings Bryan's fame and name was the target of many an oral shaft last evening. The Wilson Cabinet was represented by nine figures, all looking like Mr. Bryan, and each was interviewed about his ideas of finance, diplomacy, upshot of the army and navy, and other matters.

A voice from the past was represented by the image of former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, who professed himself much disturbed at the changes seen here since he was president of the Senate.

The guests of the dinner included many dignitaries and personalities, besides President Taft, the German ambassador, various Cabinet members and Senators and Congressmen being present.

SENATE MAY PROBE BRIBERY CHARGES

Watson and Chilton Elections
Are Contested in Statement of Governor Glasscock.

A strong possibility of a Senate investigation into the elections of Senators Watson and Chilton developed at a meeting of the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections yesterday. The committee took up the charges which were made by Governor Glasscock last session and discussed them at length.

The charges alleged that corrupt practices, including bribery, were employed in the election of these two Senators, and an investigation by the Senate with a view to expulsion is demanded.

The committee took no action, but strong sentiment for an investigation was shown to exist. Another meeting will be held next week, when a decision will probably be made. The charges against Senators Watson and Chilton have been made both in West Virginia and outside the State, ever since their election.

About the end of last session, Governor Glasscock prepared a detailed statement of charges and sent them to Washington in the hands of William Seymour Edwards, who is a member of the progressive party national committee.

Part of the charges were read in the open Senate, and the latter had an additional charge of Senator Bacon, and some of the other Democrats, they were expunged from the records and referred as an executive matter to the committee on Privileges and Elections.

The friends of Watson and Chilton in the Senate are seeking to make light of the charges. The Clapp committee on campaign contributions, which is a sub-committee of the Privileges and Elections Committee, held a short session after the meeting of the committee had concluded.

Senator Clapp said later that no decision had been reached as to when the hearings will be renewed.

Universities Receive $35,000,000 in Year

The income of eighty-seven State universities during the year of 1912 was approximately $35,000,000, according to a bulletin issued by the Federal Bureau of Education.

Of this sum the Federal Government contributed about $2,000,000 and the States $18,000,000. Institutions deriving support from public appropriations represented a capitalization of about $400,000,000.

The year's income passed the $2,000,000 mark in the case of the universities of Illinois, with $2,362,711; Minnesota, with $2,362,400; and Wisconsin, $2,122,257. Cornell University, which is technically a private institution, but receives State and Federal aid, reported total receipts of more than $3,000,000. The latter had an additional $500,000 from private benefactions.

Other State-aided institutions in the $1,000,000 income class include the universities of Michigan, with $1,346,057; Ohio, with $1,011,571; and California, with $771,225. The latter had an additional $200,000 from private benefactions. The State of Iowa supports several institutions of college and university rank with a combined income of over $2,000,000.

DIXON HITS AT TAFT AT NORTH CAROLINA SOCIETY'S BANQUET

Raps Administration for "Trying to Unload 1,500 Postmasters" on Incoming Regime.

Democratic Senators and Congressmen told of the mighty hunger for "jobs" that exists among their constituents, at the banquet of the North Carolina Society of Washington at the Raleigh last night, and Governor Craig described how high freight rates are retarding the development of the Tarheel State.

Senator Johnston humorously declared the population of his State had vastly increased since the November election, and Congressman Webb of Tennessee told of a little girl, poor, but ambitious, who is determined to become dress-maker to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.

Dixon Raps Administration.
"I have little sympathy with a discredited Administration which tried to unload 1,500 postmasters on an incoming Administration under the mask of the civil service," said Senator Dixon, Progressive national chairman, who is a native of North Carolina.

Joseph Daniels, editor of the Raleigh News and Observer; Senator Simmons of North Carolina, and others, spoke.

Those present included Governor Craig, of North Carolina; Senator Simmons of North Carolina; Senator Dixon of Montana; Senator Johnston of Alabama; Senator Webb of Tennessee; Representative Small, Joseph Daniels, A. ## PROUTY HAS BILL TO DIVORCE CIVIC AND FEDERAL LAW

District Committee Member Says Washington Real Estate Is Leaping in Value.

The announcement that he is at work on a bill to change the present system of government in the District and to divorce the District from the Federal Treasury was made in the House late yesterday by Congressman Prouty, a member of the House District Committee.

Mr. Prouty's bill would repeal the present organic act and provide an entirely different system of local self-government.

"I have been listening to testimony regarding the value of real estate here and it has been clearly established that real estate is leaping in value," Mr. Prouty said.

Mr. Prouty said he addressed letters to the mayors of several cities asking information about the assessment and taxation of real estate. "It appears without question into detail," he added, "that real estate values in every city of the United States are more than twice in their assessment than those in Washington."

Congressman Prouty continued: "In my own city we pay twenty-two mills on every dollar of real estate value. In Washington it is eleven mills. In addition, in other cities every man has to pay for special improvements. In Washington that is all absorbed by the General Government and by general taxation. That is not fair."

"Furthermore I undertake to say that the fact that the Government owns large property here throws no burden upon property of the individual owners in the District. On the contrary, it relieves them of a large burden."

"The people of Washington per capita are the wealthiest people in the United States. The average wealth of the citizens of Washington is $2,300, and the next highest is $1,800. That shows the people of Washington are able to bear their share."

"I am making up a bill which I will have the pleasure of presenting to this House, covering all these questions, and I propose to call on the House to consider a general proposition for reorganizing the entire system of government in the city of Washington. In other words, after having looked this question over I do not believe there is any way that these questions can be solved except by an absolute divorce between the District of Columbia in its purely municipal affairs and the Federal Treasury."

"There is no greater wrong in my opinion than that of a sovereign power can exercise than that of taxing one class of people for the benefit of another, and the first thought of every member of Congress must be on the line of adjusting things so that unreasonable burdens will not fall upon any one."
